The Holy Trinity Church, permanently established in 1877 the church upon the right bank of the Hackensack River about opposite the Union Trust Station and near the First National Bank.

John de Winton was the founder of the colony. He arrived at New Amsterdam early in April 1623 and soon became a member of the Mayflower Colony on Staten Island etc.
In 1638 he returned to New Haven in 1677 he purchased a tract of land in the Tappan District between the Hudson and Hackensack Rivers afterwards known as the Dutch Grant.
He removed there with his family and was accompanied by Jacques Le Rue. Shortly after some more colonists arrived, among them St. Peter de Vries (the day James de Wit)

One of the early churches in the upper part of Bergen County up to 1700 taken from the Church Records and Church Records of the Hackensack Congregation. This Church organization at the time encompassed the present Bergen & Tappan in an area of about 10 miles around Hackensack.
(These 3 congregations I believe were the only ones in the vicinity of New Amsterdam on the Tappan River.)
